This schedule is based on the Survey of Historic Setted Streets (June 2010) compiled by Lotts Architecture for the Dublin City Council Heritage Office and the Historic Surface Inventory provided in the Draft Manual for Working with Historic Surfaces (December 2014) prepared by the City Council’s Environment and Transportation Department.

The schedule will be reviewed during the period of this plan.

All works to historic surfaces shall follow the provisions of the City Council’s Historic Street Surfaces in Dublin: Conservation Study and Guidance Manual (2009), and the Advice Series on Paving – The Conservation of Historic Ground Structures (2015).

Stocks of historic ground/street surface materials in storage, including setts and granite, are to be reserved for use in the streets and spaces listed in Appendix 6, section 1.0 and 2.0.

2.0 Historic Street Surfaces (2)

2.1 Historic Granite Kerbing, Granite Pavers/Flags and Associated Features To Be Protected, Conserved and Reintroduced

In accordance with Policy BHA 18(a), the following paved areas and streets with historic (antique) granite kerbing and pavers/flags to be protected, conserved and reintroduced under the programme for areas with historic ground/street surfaces, together with any associated historic features:

- historic milestones, boundary markers, bollards, boot scrapers, troughs, guard or jostle stones, cast iron basement lights, street skylights and prisms, and
- historic and traditional gratings, historic gutter setts, decorative manholes, coal hole and other covers.

Coal hole covers and boot scrapers are in many cases part of the building with which they are associated. Where the building is a protected structure, the coal hole cover and/or boot scraper is also protected. Nevertheless, these historic features require protection and conservation where street and paving works are undertaken in the area.

This schedule is based on the Historic Surface Inventory provided in the Draft Manual for Working with Historic Surfaces (December 2014) prepared by the City Council’s Environment and Transportation Department; updated by GIS referenced survey of antique kerbs by Roads Maintenance Services (2019).

This schedule will be reviewed during the life of this plan.

All works to historic surfaces shall follow the provisions of the City Council’s Historic Street Surfaces in Dublin: Conservation Study and Guidance Manual (2009), and the Advice Series on Paving – The Conservation of Historic Ground Structures (2015).

Stocks of historic ground/street surface materials in storage, including setts and granite, will be reserved for use in the streets and spaces listed in Appendix 6, section 1 and 2.

This schedule is based on the Historic Surface Inventory provided in the Draft Manual for Working with Historic Surfaces (December 2014) prepared by the City Council's Environment and Transportation Department; updated by GIS referenced survey of antique kerbs by Roads Maintenance Services (2019).

This schedule will be reviewed during the period of this plan.

All works to historic surfaces shall follow the provisions of the City Council's Historic Street Surfaces in Dublin: Conservation Study and Guidance Manual (2009), and the Advice Series on Paving – The Conservation of Historic Ground Structures (2015).

Stocks of historic ground/street surface materials in storage, including setts and granite, will be reserved for use in the streets and spaces listed in Appendix 6, section 1 and 2.

4.0 Monuments in the City

4.1 Introduction

The 1992 European Convention on the Protection of Archaeological Heritage (Valletta, January 1992) was ratified by Ireland in 1997. The Convention provides the basic framework for policy on the protection of the archaeological heritage. In summary, the obligations on the State under the Convention relate to:

- Providing statutory protection measures;
- Authorisation and supervision of archaeological activities;
- Measures for the physical protection of the archaeological heritage;
- Providing consultation between archaeologists and planners;
- Providing financial support for research or rescue archaeology;
- Facilitating the study of archaeological discoveries by making or bringing up to date maps, surveys and inventories of archaeological sites;
- Facilitating national and international exchanges of elements of the archaeological heritage for scientific purposes;
- Educating the public in relation to the value of and threat to the archaeological heritage;
- Preventing the illicit circulation of elements of the archaeological heritage;
- Providing for the exchange of information and experts on the archaeological heritage between States party to the Convention.

4.2 Legislative Context

Irish legislation for the protection of archaeological heritage is based on the National Monuments Acts 1930 to 1994. This is in accordance with the Valletta Convention (as above). The Planning and Development Act 2000 (as amended) works in tandem with the National Monuments Acts to provide for the protection of monuments and the referral of planning applications to the Department. The Minister for Housing, Local Government and Heritage has a specific role in relation to the protection of the archaeological heritage through powers provided by these Acts and the National Cultural Institutions Act 1997. The overall State archaeological service is provided by the Department of Housing, Local Government and Heritage (DHLGH) and delivered through the National Monuments Service of the Department and the National Museum of Ireland (Irish Antiquities Division) on behalf of the Minister. The National Monuments Acts secure the archaeological heritage in several key areas through the DHLGH:

- The Record of Monuments and Places
- Register of Historic Monuments
- Preservation Orders and Temporary Preservation Orders

4.3 Department of Housing, Local Government and Heritage (DHLGH) Guidelines

The following policy and guidance documents are issued by the Department of Housing, Local Government and Heritage and available to view on the National Monuments Service's website www.archaeology.ie

- Policy and Guidelines on Archaeological Excavation
- Framework and Principles for the Protection of the Archaeological Heritage
- Archaeology and the Planning Process
- Guidelines for Authors of Reports on Archaeological Excavations

- National Policy on Town Defences
- Guidelines for Directions
- Guidelines for Consents

4.4 Monuments in State Care in Dublin City

The following monuments in Dublin city are in State care (Ownership and Guardianship):

- St. Mary's Abbey
- St. Audoen's Church
- St. Stephen's Green
- Kilmainham Gaol
- Casino, Marino
- 14–17 Moore Street

Details of all monuments in Dublin City are available to view on www.archaeology.ie

Ministerial Consent under Section 14 of the National Monuments Acts may apply to monuments in Dublin City Council/State ownership. This is determined on a case by-case basis and includes those protected by a Temporary Preservation Order and Preservation Order.
